

Family Law

The Family Law practice at Pullman & Comley represents clients in all aspects of family litigation. This includes prenuptial agreements; legal separation; dissolution of marriage, including mediation, custody disputes, division of assets, alimony and support and tax analysis; and post-dissolution representation relating to modifications of court orders on alimony, child support and custody. The practice works closely with members of our Trusts & Estates and Tax practices on estate planning and tax issues related to marital agreements.
