

Nonprofit Organizations

Pullman & Comley has worked with many different types of nonprofit organizations, including charitable, educational, health, social service and religious organizations, on a wide range of governance and tax issues. Our attorneys have extensive experience in qualifying newly-formed nonprofit organizations as tax-exempt entities and advising established nonprofit organizations on maintaining their tax-exempt status. We have assisted both public charities and private foundations with such issues as federal tax-exempt status, Connecticut property tax exemptions, corporate governance, merger and consolidation, fundraising and endowment activities and investment policies.
