

Connecticut LawTribune

MAY 31, 2010
VOL. 36, NO. 22 • $10.00

An ALM Publication

CTLAWTRIBUNE.COM

Contributed Photo

Pullman & Comley recently hosted its 13th annual Networking Tea as part of the firm's Women's Initiative. The event brings together business and community leaders from Fairfield County and other parts of the state. Pictured from left to right are Megan Youngling, associate at Pullman & Comley; Susan Ross, President and CEO of the Fairfield County Community Foundation; Linda Franciscovich, the FCCF's vice president of development and philanthropic services; Suzanne Brown Peters, director of FCCF's Fund for Women and Girls; Diane Whitney, partner at Pullman & Comley and chair of the Women's Initiative; and Tiffany Kouri, associate at Pullman & Comley.