September 5, 2019

Pullman & Comley attorneys Nancy Hancock and Russell Anderson participated in a panel discussion, "How Medical is Cannabis?" at the Marcum New England Life Science & Biotech Summit. Nancy and Russ explored the exponential expansion of cannabis and cannabinoids (THC, CBD) as medicine, nutraceutical, and recreational drugs. The presentation also addressed how the FDA and state governments are reacting to the commercialization of cannabis and the steps biotech and life science participants should consider before jumping into the "green rush."
