

Campbell Barrett Appears on FOX 61 News to Discuss Cooperative Co-Parenting Strategies During the Pandemic

April 28, 2020

Fox 61

Pullman & Comley's Campbell Barrett, chair of the firm's Family Law practice, was recently interviewed on Fox 61, where he discussed co-parenting during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Campbell explained how a cooperative strategy is the best approach. "The outbreak alone does not justify veering from the court ordered plans. That being said, people need to be practical, people need to be realistic, people need to be safe; and if that means that they come up with alternate ways for children to see or interact with a parent, well then that's what should happen."

Listen to the full interview here.

Professionals

Campbell D. Barrett

Practice Areas

Custody, Parenting and Relocation Litigation

Family Law