

Steven J. Stafstrom Comments on State's Task Force Examining Police Accountability and Transparency

June 10, 2020

Republican American

A state task force examining police accountability and transparency met on June 8 with renewed purpose following the state and national protests over the death of George Floyd. According to Stephen J. Stafstrom, an attorney in Pullman & Comley's Litigation practice and a member of the Connecticut General Assembly, given the public's demand for immediate action, lawmakers will be moving ahead on a comprehensive package of police reforms now while the task force works on its recommendations. To read the full article, please click here.

Professionals

Steven J. Stafstrom Jr.