

Amanda G. Gurren Named as New Member of Connecticut Power and Energy Society's New Energy Professionals Committee

January 10, 2020

Amanda G. Gurren, as associate in Pullman & Comley's Real Estate, Environmental, Energy and Telecommunications practices has been named a new member of the Connecticut Power & Energy Society's New Energy Professionals Committee. Amanda and the two other new members, Jack Halpin and Melissa Kaplan, will be charged with guiding and assisting new CPES members and those new to the industry as they become engaged in the organization. Amanda will also provide assistance to CPES members on how the organization can assist them in their careers and bring value to the organizations they represent.

The complete press release regarding the complete roster of CPES 2020 leaders can be found on the CPES website.

Professionals

Amanda G. Gurren

Practice Areas

Environmental
Land Use
Real Estate
Regulatory, Energy and Telecommunications

Industries

Energy