

The ASTM Standard Practice for Phase II Environmental Site Assessments

November 30, 2012

Bloomberg BNA Environment Reporter

Pullman & Comley Environmental attorney Christopher P. McCormack chaired the Task Group responsible for revising the ASTM International standard E1903 for Phase II Environmental Site Assessments. In the November 30, 2012 issue of the Bloomberg BNA Environment Reporter, he reviews the background of the revised Standard issued in July 2011, describes the reasons for the revisions, outlines significant changes in the new standard and describes the revised assessment process, including planning, conducting, and documenting the results.
