As schools and educators work tirelessly to provide educational and related services during these exceptional circumstances, it's critical to keep pace with new legislation and ensure that you are complying with the services mandated under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) and state law.

In this webinar, special education attorneys Melinda Kaufmann, Michael McKeon and Mark Sommaruga focused on how to implement IDEA in the age of the coronavirus. They also addressed:

- Determining Eligibility and Other Evaluation Conundrums
- Annual Reviews and Related PPT Obligations
- ESY and Compensatory Education
