Zoom Webinar

Two years into the pandemic, Connecticut schools are now facing a world with fewer statewide mandates on issues such as masking and vaccination of staff, but greater choices and challenges.

In this webinar, attorney Mark J. Sommaruga of Pullman & Comley's School Law practice provided the very latest information based on emerging guidance from the state. He also provided both a review of what legal mandates remain with respect to these developing issues and practical solutions to the questions of Connecticut public and private schools.

Here is a recording of the webinar.
