"Our clients benefit most when we proactively bring them ideas to optimize opportunities or address unforeseen issues. With Pullman and Comley, we have a partner who does the same." - Joseph Kask, Chief Executive Officer, blumshapiro

The recent transformation that's taken place at blum goes far beyond its new logo and corporate tagline. As the largest regional accounting, tax and advisory firm based in New England, blum differentiates itself by living the values of the firm and applying them to servicing their clients. blum's service model starts with understanding what success and satisfaction means to each of their clients and then commits itself to deliver expert teams who invest themselves in their clients' future.

Since 2006, P&C has provided blum with practical legal advice on the laws and regulations affecting merger and acquisition activities, personnel issues, and the Internal Revenue Code. The shared goals of both organizations to build lasting partnerships with clients by having a deep understanding of their business and an investment in their success- has created a solid foundation for our own partnership that will endure well into the future.
