

IN THE NEWS: Pullman & Comley Attorney Comments on Financing the Redevelopment of Connecticut Brownfields Sites

January 12, 2009
The Redding Pilot

Pullman & Comley attorney Lee Hoffman was quoted in two recent articles by Rachel Kirkpatrick in The Redding Pilot (Dec. 31, 2008 and January 8, 2009) discussing financing tools for redeveloping contaminated sites known as "brownfields." In early January, the town of Redding voted in favor of a proposal for tax incremental financing through a state program to help Georgetown Land Development Company begin infrastructure work at a remediation site.

Professionals

Lee D. Hoffman

Practice Areas

Commercial Finance Environmental Environmental Law and Litigation
Real Estate
Real Estate Acquisitions and Sales
Real Estate Finance

Industries

Real Estate

pullcom.com  @pullmancomley

BRIDGEPORT | HARTFORD | SPRINGFIELD | WAKEFIELD | WATERBURY | WESTPORT | WHITE PLAINS
203.330.2000 | 860.424.4300 | 413.314.6160 | 401-360-1533 | 203.573.9700 | 203.254.5000 | 914.705.5355