

PRESS RELEASE: Brad Mondschein Receives 2014 Volunteer of The Year Award From Jewish Federation of Greater Hartford

HARTFORD, June 24, 2014: Brad Mondschein, a partner at Pullman & Comley, LLC, was awarded the 2014 Volunteer of the Year Award from the Jewish Federation of Greater Hartford for his work on the CT-Israel Technology Initiative, the law firm announced today.

Brad represents clients before public utility commissions and in complex transactions in the growing areas of green energy, green buildings, alternative energy products, energy supply contracts, licensing agreements, hosting and web design contracts, technology procurement agreements and a broad variety of other technology contracts. He is based in the firm's Hartford office.

A leader of the Connecticut-Israel Technology Conference since its founding four years ago, Brad has played an important role in making the annual conference a premiere Connecticut business event. Brad is a member of the Board of Directors of the Jewish Federation of Greater Hartford, and serves as chair of the Israel Subcommittee of the MetroHartford Alliance's International Business Council.

Brad has chaired the Conference since its inception four years ago. Since his tenure there have been three CT-Israel Technology Summits, one business mission to Israel and new partnerships being formed between Connecticut and Israel businesses and institutions.

Brad has received many honors and awards including the "40 Under 40" award from the Hartford Business Journal; the "New Leader of the Law" award for Advocacy from the Connecticut Law Tribune; and the Bernard Gottlieb Young Leadership Award from the Jewish Federation of Greater Hartford. Brad received his J. D. from the Western New England University School of Law, cum laude, in 1993; and his B.A. from Union College in 1990.
